Radium, X-Ray Equipment Aid Fight Against Dread Disease

Mrs. M. Gunn, senior therapy technician at Royal Jubilee Hospital, goes to lead-lined safe for radium needles for treatment of cancer. Each drawer is also lined with lead to protect personnel from deadly radiation.

Mrs. Gunn removes one radium needle in preparation for administering treatment under direction of radio-therapist. She works behind a lead table weighing more than 1,000 pounds for protection from harmful rays from radium.

Story of Cancer To Be Outlined By Expert Here

By BRIAN LOUGHNAN

The story of a deadly killer named for a crab will be told to Victorians by one of the top men in his field in the world, at a public meeting on Wednesday in the Empress Hotel.

Listeners will hear a story of detection—and baffling of the killer more fascinating than any in the pages of fiction, calling into action a machine that cuts to the thickness of one human cell, and a weapon that must be "hidden" in a strongbox lined with lead.

Dr. William Boyd, professor of pathology at U.B.C., will tell the story of the fight against cancer, which the ancients thought spread in its victim like the claw of a crab.

CLINIC EXPANDED

The meeting, to be held at 8 p.m. in the Crystal Ballroom of the hotel, will give Victorians an insight into the work of the Victoria Cancer Clinic, which recently expanded from a diagnostic centre to include treatment.

The clinic holds diagnostic sessions every week at Royal Jubilee Hospital, and laboratory work and treatment are in operation continuously.

Persons suspecting cancer in themselves do not attend the clinic without being referred by their doctor.

Many city medical men are associated with the clinic, including specialists in a number of fields of medicine. The clinic was recently approved by the B.C. Cancer Foundation. It is staffed by 30 doctors, and serves all Vancouver Island.

X-RAY FIRST

When a patient attends the clinic, first step is in the X-ray department of the hospital.

X-ray and other tests are taken to determine if the trouble is cancer or not.

The disease may be on the skin, close to the surface or deep-seated.

In some cases, "cancer" turns out to be a harmless tumor.

If possible, a small piece of tissue is removed from the affected area and taken to the pathological laboratory for close study.

It is processed in a machine called a histokine, so that it can be handled in the laboratory.

HISTOKINE MACHINE

The big machine, set by a technician, automatically carries out a cycle of fixation, dehydration, infiltration, decalcification or staining of tissues, and their final washing or setting in wax or celloidin.

Set in wax, the tissue is cut with a microtome, a small hand-operated slicer that cuts from the wax block slices as thin as 16/100,000ths of an inch.

Before a doctor can qualify as a pathologist and diagnose the suspected tissue, he must study three years beyond his normal medical course.

The Victoria Cancer Clinic's department of pathology is under direction of Dr. Ross G. D. McNeely.

Glass slides on which sliced tissue is fixed are studied with a microscope while under various tests.

Cancer cells "look different and react differently." Actual differences are often so minute that tests must be repeated.

Three X-ray machines are the main weapons used in the clinic. Cancer sores on or close to the surface are treated by a machine generating between 80,000 and 140,000 volts.

The "big gun" against cancer is a room-filling black machine that can be focussed onto a small area of the patient's body. It generates 400,000 volts. The medium machine is more penetrating than the small, less powerful than the large.

Radiation is controlled by a small rod which records the amount of treatment and trips a cutout on the machine.

AUTOMATIC CUTOFF

The largest X-ray machine is controlled by a technician at an outside control panel, but there are two other systems which automatically shut off X-rays when the prescribed amount has been aimed at the cancer.

In some cases cancer must be treated by radium needles. They are kept in drawers in the lead-lined face of a strongbox in the hospital.

Preparation of the needles for treatment is done at a lead table with a lead shield protecting the technician from deadly rays.

Each time the radium is moved a record must be kept of it. Misplaced, it could conceivably kill anyone working near it for a length of time.

ABILITY TO PAY

Even though expensive radium is used, and equipment costing many thousands of dollars is brought into action, the patient is charged only according to his ability to pay.

Cause of cancer is not yet known, doctors say, and early diagnosis and treatment are the best precaution.

The Victoria Cancer Clinic is headed by Dr. H. H. Murphy, who was radiologist at Royal Jubilee Hospital for 20 years, until his retirement. Head radiologist at the hospital now is Dr. H. M. Edmison.

Speaker Deplores Crowded Studies

Canadian teachers should resist pressure to add to school curricula, B.C. Speaker of the House Nancy Hodges says.

Speaking to 25 Victoria and Vancouver Normal School teachers last night, Mrs. Hodges deplored the—crowding out of liberal arts subjects by social science studies.

She said there should be fewer subjects taught, and these more thoroughly.

Modern high school graduates are "glib," she said, but their knowledge of spelling, arithmetic and English is "atrocious."

"The Germans excelled in knowledge of the social sciences, and look what they did with it," she said.

BACK TO BIBLE

She said she was treading on dangerous ground, but would like to see teachers put more emphasis on the study of the Bible as "one treasure house of the English language."

Mrs. Hodges scored the glamorizing of crime and sex on the radio and in movies.

"These are beginning to be accepted as standards by our young people," she said. "It's getting so that nobody thinks for themselves anymore."

Wage Issue Still Open

Wage differences between Greater Victoria School Board and Victoria College teachers are still open for discussion, board chairman Richard Reeve said yesterday.

He said some items might be agreed on Monday evening by the board but he did not confirm reports that a wage increase of 12½ per cent would be announced. About 425 Greater Victoria and 20 college teachers are affected by decisions.

Faculty Group Favors Teacher-Training Plan

Some type of extended program for teacher-training is favored by the Provincial Normal Schools Faculty Association.

This was reported from the association's third annual conference in Victoria yesterday. A spokesman said discussion indicated the association favored improved training but that the matter is up to the provincial education department.

H. O. English, F. H. Johnson and W. A. Copeland discussed the training program during morning sessions at Victoria Normal School. About 15 members of Vancouver Normal School and 10 members of Victoria Normal School attended the sessions.

A paper on screening candidates in teacher-training institutions throughout Canada was presented by H. G. Gilliland, vice-principal of Victoria Normal School.

The paper disclosed that no reliable method of applicant selection has yet been discovered.

A committee was set up to continue investigations of the best methods of attracting and selecting candidates for normal school.

Other teachers taking part in discussions included Miss Jean Kilgour, primary specialist, Vancouver; Enoch Broome, executive member, Vancouver; E. Ozard, and T. Roy Hall, principal of Vancouver Normal School.

Cash Still Arrives For Cigarette Fund

ALTHOUGH the drive is over, The Colonist cigarette fund is still popular.

An unexpected gift in the form of a $50 cheque came yesterday from Buckerfield's Ltd. of Vancouver, to boost the fund to a new high.

The total collected is now $3,157.

The generous Buckerfield donation will add about 12,000 cigarettes to the shipment now being prepared for dispatch to the Canadian troops in Korea.

Hometowners Must Await Ottawa Action

Victoria's Hometowners will not be going to Korea to play for the troops until the question of sending Canadian civilian entertainers has been settled in the House of Commons.

This was the advice received by Hometowners' leader Fred Usher from Defense Minister Brooke Claxton's secretary.

The letter said Mr. Usher would hear more "in due course."

"We have a lot of local support, and Fisheries Minister R. W. Mayhew has promised he will do everything he can for us at Ottawa," Mr. Usher said.

RICHMOND, Eng. (CP)—A public library here has purchased a letter written by Charles Dickens in 1839 to the Irish painter Daniel Maclise. Maclise that year painted a portrait of Dickens which hangs in the National Portrait Gallery.

Where . . .

. . . Will a doctor pay to deliver triplets?

The answer to this question may be found in the classified section today in the feature "Where in the World."

Body Search Called Off Temporarily

Search for the body of Dong Chew Yin, 20, missing from the Ss. Princess Joan since Monday, will be eased during the week end and renewed about Tuesday, R.C.M.P. said yesterday.

Dong was allegedly murdered aboard the steamship and police have charged Alexander Williams, Gould, Nfld., with murder. He is to appear Jan. 24 in provincial court for preliminary hearing.

Police have asked anyone locating a body in waters off Saanich Peninsula and Victoria to report immediately to R.C.M.P.

Mr. Langlois has been missing since Jan. 3. A check with his Montreal home failed to yield any clues, said R.C.M.P.

The 38-year-old teacher was believed to have been in poor health.

Victoria Man Admits Bigamy

Victoria furniture-maker James R. McIntosh, 41, pleaded guilty to a charge of bigamy in city police court yesterday and was remanded until Jan. 25, Magistrate H. C. Hall asked for a probation officer's report.

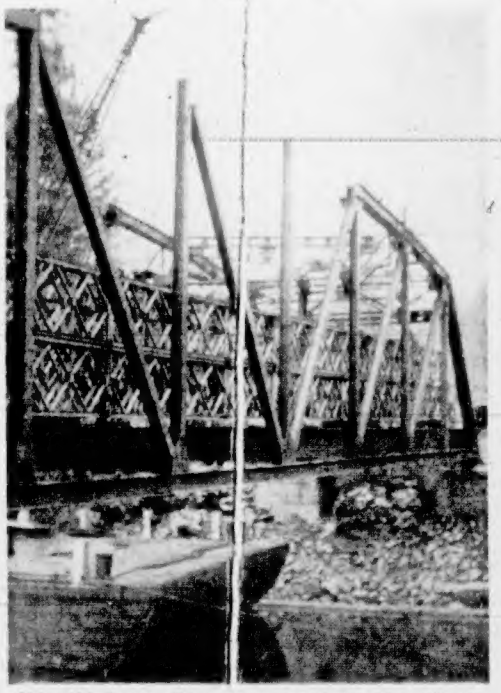
Ingenuity Big Factor in Bridging Deep, Fast Somass River

Bailey Bridge was used in replacing old timber River Bend Bridge on Somass River two miles outside Alberni. Above, nose of the bridge snakes across the river, which is 150 feet wide and up to 90 feet deep at this point. Because of depth and fast waters, unusual building methods were needed. Materials for the bridge were prefabricated by Western Bridge Co. of Vancouver, and construction was by Dominion Bridge Co. of Vancouver.



Using this barge with a crane mounted on it, workmen swung the prefabricated bridge parts into position. Steel was temporarily fastened, later riveted into completed Pratt Truss Bridge. Resident engineer on the job for public works department was G. J. Cameron, 261 Michigan Street, Victoria.

This is how nearly-completed bridge looked just before Bailey Bridge frame was withdrawn. This is the first time a bridge of this type has been used on Vancouver Island. Final touches are expected to be finished this week when Baynes Manning Ltd., Vancouver, begins laying the concrete deck. Riveting was scheduled to be completed this week to conclude actual construction of the bridge, a centre of interest for weeks.

Blames Husbands

NEWCASTLE, England, Jan 19 (CP)—One reason why wives go out to work, said Dr. L. Housden, chairman of a parent and child welfare organization, is "the disgraceful behavior of husbands."

At a conference here, speaking on "the young mother at work," Housden drew attention to the fact that "wherever one goes one finds husbands who will not hand over sufficient of their wages."

In many cases, he said, the wage may be well above the poverty line but the amount actually handed over puts the wife and children well below this. Under these circumstances many women earned a wage to improve the material structure of their homes and in doing so "ruined" the children.

Mrs. Jeanne Opie

"Personality of the Week"

By EILEEN LEAROYD

Jeanne Opie, 21, is a young lady with brown hair and blue eyes whose cameo-like features makes her look more like "the lass with the delicate air" than a top-notch professional figure skater.

But top-notch skater she is, holding every coveted medal [illegible] figure skating, as well as two for dancing.

She is one of a handful of skaters across the Dominion who have earned the gold medal award.

(In the Ice Cycles show, which just finished its run at the arena, Jeanne Matthews of Vancouver was the only gold medalist in the entire cast.)

Mrs. Opie is one of two figure skating instructors with the Victoria Skating Club. The other is Miss Marianne McMillan.

Jeanne Opie has only been with the local club for three months; before that she taught at the New Westminster Totem Figure Skating Club.

The Vancouver-born skater, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Watkins, began her career on the rinks at the age of 14.

"That is really too old to begin," she explained.

For an oldster, however, Jeanne didn't do too badly. At the age of 16 she went east to compete in her first championship bout.

"I didn't do too well," she says.

The next year, Jeanne traveled to Winnipeg to compete in the western senior ladies' singles championships, and placed second. Meantime she had won the B.C. titles, including singles and pairs.

Jeanne Watkins was just thinking about joining one of the big ice shows (she had several offers to choose from) when a young man who hailed from Britain and New Zealand came along and she married him instead.

Her husband, Thornton Opie is an athlete himself, having taken skating, skiing and swimming championships both in Toronto and New Zealand. The mantlepiece of the Opie apartment is filled with cups both athletes have won.

Mrs. Opie thinks the Victoria Skating Club has an excellent spirit, with a number of promising pupils. But she wonders sometimes about the fate of the ambitious ones.

"When I was training," she says, "I practiced skating six hours a day. There are so many commitments on the ice in the arena, that figure skaters here are lucky if they get six hours a week. At that rate, I am afraid even bronze medals will be rare."

The Victoria public will soon have a chance to judge how the young skaters are coming along when the local club presents its annual carnival March 22 and March 23.

Both Mrs. Opie and Miss McMillan are producing many of the numbers themselves, and both will be featured in the show.

It will be the first time Victorians will have had the opportunity to see pretty Jeanne Opie perform on her singing blades.

If the information contained in her press clippings is true, the ice will be cold, but Mrs. Opie will be very hot.

Mother Gives Bride At Double-Ring Rite

The marriage of Nellie May, daughter of Mrs. F. I. Embling, 66 Wellington Avenue, to Harry Leroy Cuthbert, only son of Lt.-Cmdr. H. C. Cuthbert, R.C.N., and Mrs. Cuthbert, 1012 Wollaston Street, took place Friday evening in the vestry of First United Church, with Rev. Moir A. J. Waters officiating at the double ring ceremony.

The bride wore a suit of blue-grey English worsted with halo headdress of white roses and tulle, complimented with navy blue accessories and a corsage of red roses and white feathered carnations. She was given in marriage by her mother, who wore a black velvet dress with matching hat and corsage of red carnations.

Mrs. J. Dalman, her sister's only attendant, chose a powder blue gabardine suit with halo headdress of pink roses and tulle, pink and black accessories and a corsage of pink carnations.

The bridegroom had Mr. Robert Jackson as best man.

The reception was held at the home of the bride, where her mother and Mrs. Cuthbert, wearing a grey suit with black accessories, welcomed friends with the newlyweds.

A pink and silver color scheme decorated the lace-covered table, which was centred with the three-tiered cake topped with a miniature bride and groom, and flanked by lighted white tapers. Mr. A. Joanisse proposed the toast to his cousin.

Leaving on the midnight boat for a mainland honeymoon, the bride donned a wine gabardine topcoat over her wedding costume, with navy blue hat trimmed with white.

The couple will live here.

Suffragette Pageant To Be Held

Victoria Business and Professional Women's Club will have a rummage sale in March and, a Tableau-pageant with dialogue in February. Decision to hold these events was made at a meeting in the clubrooms this week.

Struggles of a group of pioneers who crossed the Rocky Mountains at Tete Juan Cache in Yellowhead Pass in the 1860's were told by Miss Lottie Bowron.

The speaker's father, John Bowron, was one of the party. He settled in Barkerville and became one of the province's first gold commissioners. Miss Bowron, who was born in Barkerville, described the town as it was in the early days and as it is today.

Mrs. Kate Farquharson introduced Miss Bowron and Mrs. B. Murgatroyd thanked her.

The Spinsters' Ball

First of the late winter dances which make February a busy month on the social calendar is the Spinsters' Ball, sponsored by the Junior Auxiliary to St. Joseph's Hospital. This is the well-known party to which the girls extend the invitations, provide "different" corsages, and foot the bills for the evening. First staged in 1935, it has been an annual affair since then. Providing dance music will be Len Acres' orchestra, which has played for the Spinsters' Ball each year since its inception.

Two girls who have already extended their bids to the ball are Miss Anne Hilliard and Miss Sydnie Vigar. Here they discuss music for the evening with Len Acres whose orchestra will play for dancing. Among the numbers to be featured are the recently revived "Charmaine" with violinists Mike Andrews and Reg Wood and a special chorus of "Body and Soul" with saxophonist Bill Johnston.

Miss Sylvia Morrow wearing a strapless bouffant gown looks over two sample corsages of the type which have become a tradition at the annual ball. Destined for the men who receive invitations, one is composed of carrots backed by lacy greenery and the other has a combination of lollipops and cigarettes fastened together in "Colonial" style.

To Mrs. A. M. Duval, centre, has gone the responsibility of convening the ball this year for the junior auxiliary. Among the members of her committee are Miss Yvonne Taylor, left, and Mrs. G. J. Welcker. Another member is Mrs. J. Boyd.

Previewing the dance frocks they will wear for the Spinsters' Ball are Mrs. Kenneth Douglas in flame taffeta, Miss Norah Coleman in a ballerina-length dress in pale yellow and Miss Lilly Archer, whose strapless gown has a matching blue net stole.

Demonstrating one of the posters used in advertising are Mrs. R. G. Pearce, standing, and Mrs. F. H. Rough, who are looking after publicity for the affair.

Victorians Off to Hawaii

Mrs. Beulah Latham, left, and Mrs. Edwin Tomlin are traveling together to the islands. They will stay at Honolulu's Edgewater Beach Hotel until early in March when they will return to their homes in Victoria by way of San Francisco.

Bright flowers massed in their stateroom aboard the Lurline were a happy omen of a six-week stay in Honolulu for Dr. and Mrs. W. G. Wilson who sailed for the Hawaiian Islands this week. They were pictured a few minutes before the ship left San Francisco Wednesday.—(Matson Line pictures.)

Gardenias and Red Roses For Lovely Bridal Bouquet

Yellow and white chrysanthemums were used to decorate Centennial United Church for the marriage of Muriel Florence Paul and James Duncan Robertson. Rev. W. R. Ashford read the nuptial service for the youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Paul, 553 Walter Avenue, and the eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Robertson of Ladner, B.C.

Mr. Paul gave his daughter in marriage. She wore a gown of ivory satin and lace with the sleeves tapering at her wrists. Beading and rhinestones embroidered the collar. Her floor-length veil was of white net. She carried a bouquet of gardenias and red roses and her only jewelry was a double strand of pearls, gift of the groom.

Mrs. Kathleen Weidman and Mrs. Jean De Bolt of Edmonton attended their sister. They were attired in matching gowns of orchid and pale green with chapel veils. Both carried colonial bouquets of roses and carnations.

Mr. George Robertson was best man. Ushers were Mr. Jack De Bolt and Mr. Lawrence Rimes.

Mothers of the bride and groom received guests at the reception at Terry's banquet room. Mr. J. R. Smith proposed the toast to the bride. The refreshment table was centred with a three-tier wedding cake banked in pink tulle and floral bouquets.

For traveling the bride wore a teal blue suit with wine accessories and corsage of roses. The honeymoon will be spent in Vancouver and the United States. The couple will reside here.

Great Cookery Exhibition In London Jan. 23

LONDON, Jan. 10—The British hotel and catering trades are prepared to give the lie to the hoary legend that cooking is a lost art in Britain.

The greatest cookery exhibition to be seen in food-short Britain in 15 years will be staged at Olympia, London, from Jan. 23 to Feb. 1. "Hotelympia," as the show will be called, will feature a salon where the outstanding creations of winners in previous international exhibitions will be displayed.

Besides this mouth-watering salon, a day-to-day competition with 26 competitive classes is expected to draw hundreds of tasty entries which will be a revelation to those who believe the British can cook nothing but overdone roast beef and watery Brussels sprouts.

Another attraction at the Hotelympia will be the world cocktail championship which will see some of the world's leading bartenders shaking everything from a Singapore Sling to a Pink Lady. No information on how this competition will be judged is as yet available.

Colfax Rebekah Lodge No. 3, I.O.O.F., officers were installed by Mrs. M. Silver, district deputy president, and Mrs. M. McKenzie, deputy marshal. They are Mrs. Eleanor Roberts, noble grand; Mrs. Vilsie Wright, vice-grand; Mrs. Martha Dunsmore, recording secretary; Mrs. Helen Loar, financial secretary; Mrs. Marie Paver, treasurer. Acting as escorts were Ellis Reynolds, Frank Taylor, William Dinsmore, Ernest Collett and Ralph Paulson.

Afternoon Branch of the Women's Auxiliary to St. Martins-in-the-Field will meet January 22 at 2.30 in the parish hall.

Beauty and You

By MARION MATTHEWS

Are you the girl who just curls up and becomes a hot-house flower during the winter months? Perhaps you do prefer warm-weather activity instead of the rugged cold of a ski slope or outdoor skating. If so, there are many indoor sports you can pursue.

There's bowling, ice skating, dancing, roller skating just to mention a few which may be available in your community. These games are not only fun, they offer companionship with friends and help keep the figure trim.

Consider some of the benefits of bowling. It may be a fine art for some and even though your score is not one to be envied you can get a lot of physical good form from the stretching that it demands. Stretching the shoulder area, neck muscles which have a tendency to crowd up and kink in cold weather, waistline, back and legs all get a good workout.

Ice skating calls for wonderful co-ordination and if you dance well you'll probably learn quickly and be very graceful.

Dancing not only helps the figure but gives you a new poise in a very brief time.

Roller skating is an indoor activity that you quickly pick up from those childhood days. It is something like swimming, once you learn you never forget.

Get a crowd of your own together and see if they wouldn't like to join in the fun each week. Of course, one or two friends would be a good start. It won't be long before you have others asking if they may join you.

Remember it is but a short step from a hot-house flower to a wallflower!

Week to Honor Work Of Victorian Order

OTTAWA, Jan. 20 (CP)—Canada will tip its hat next month to Victorian Order nurses, the more than 500 girls in blue who help guard the nation's health in towns and cities from coast to coast.

The week of Feb. 24 has been set aside in their honor. "Its purpose," V.O.N. president, Mr. Justice C. H. Locke, said in a statement "is to bring about a better public understanding of the work of the V.O.N."

He explained that many persons are not fully aware of the services which the Order offers citizens in all walks of life.

Organized more than half a century ago, the V.O.N. was established and has been maintained for the chief purpose of providing nursing care with health teaching on a visit basis to patients in their own homes.

The service is for everyone regardless of race, religion or the ability to pay. Each nurse is a graduate registered nurse with additional training or experience in public health nursing.

WELL-ROUNDED SERVICE

A V.O.N. nurse gives needed care and treatment in the homes. She teaches young homemakers how to buy and use nutritious foods. She counsels all members of the family pertaining to health and is a sympathetic friend.

Patients who are able will pay a moderate fee to cover cost. Some pay part of the cost, and care is never refused because of a patient's inability to pay.

In a year the V.O.N. nurse serves something like 140,000 patients and makes 1,000,000 visits. In 10 years the orders patients have increased by more than 50 per cent.

"The history of the V.O.N. is a dramatic story of Canadian development," said Mr. Justice Locke. "And the services it is rendering today are of enormous value to the whole country."

Mr. Justice Locke emphasized that V.O.N. week is not a money-raising project. "It is simply a week during which we would like Canadians to take a look at the V.O.N. and what it is doing."

Esquimalt Chapter, I.O.D.E., met at headquarters with Mrs. G. A. R. Stelck presiding. Mrs. F. Bliss read an article on Russia. Reports showed hampers sent to needy families and gifts distributed at Veterans' Hospital and the Aged Women's Home. Parcels were sent to the adopted school at Kyoquot and knitted garments turned in to Municipal Chapter. Sum of $25 was sent to the Lamb fund.

Annual meeting of Victoria Handweavers' Guild will be Jan. 22 at 7.30 at 1301 Broad Street, when 1952 officers will be elected.

McGOWAN — In loving memory of our dearly beloved sister, Edith Florence McGowan (Fetherston), January 26, 1951.

When our sweet sister was called away.
God took her home, it was His will,
Within our hearts she lieth still.

LINSTONE—In loving memory of my mother, Mrs. Minnie Linstone, who passed away January 20, 1951.

The stroke means more than tongue can tell.
The world seems quite another place
Without the smile of mother's face.
Ever remembered by daughter, Gladys George and Cheryl.

STARKEY—In loving memory of a dear father and grandfather, John Starkey, who passed away January 20, 1951
His kindly way and pleasant face
Are a pleasure to recall.
He had an understanding way with each
And died beloved by all.
—Mickey, Doug and Bud.

6 MEMORIAMS

WILL A DOCTOR PAY TO DELIVER TRIPLETS?

LIKE most obstetricians, seventy-four-year-old Dr. David Edwards, New York University '99, of East Hampton, N. Y., has had to raise his fee for delivery. During the past fifty years his price has gone up from $10 to never less than $75—that is unless he delivers triplets. In that case "Dr. Dave" offers a $1,000 bonus which will more than take care of the fee, but he has yet to deliver triplets, although his bonus offer has been widely publicized for years! Meanwhile, Dr. Edwards, who is on call 24 hours a day on the east end of Long Island, from Montauk Point to Southampton, continues to treat the great-grandchildren of patients he once visited on horseback—still hoping that some day his bonus offer will be taken up.

TRIPLESILVERMASONPLATZ

Clients have been asking where Trip was. Well, after helping to settle the beer strike, by promising to build a pipeline from Calgary—He's just returned from Ottawa, with a hat full of cigars, interviewing a well-known statesman—as to where Democracy ceases and Autocracy begins—where Socialism joins Bolshevism how the Provinces can preach. Private Enterprise can indulge in Monopolies. All he would say cryptically was "It's a RUM go—A RUM go!"

D. McGregor Named to Head History Group

D. A. McGregor of Vancouver was elected president of the B.C. Historical Association at the annual meeting Friday night in the provincial library. He succeeds Major H. Cuthbert Holmes of Victoria.

Cates, North Vancouver; Dr. Margaret Ormsby, Vancouver; Dr. W. N. Sage, Vancouver, and Miss Madge Wolfenden, Victoria.

Social Credit Group Attacks Politics

There is only one Social Credit, and it does not include federal followers of Solon Low, or the Alberta government, according to the Social Credit Association of Canada in British Columbia.

This was stressed in a statement issued from the meeting of the provincial council here Friday.

The statement, issued by Major A. H. Jukes, president, said the author of the only Social Credit is Clifford Hugh Douglas, of Scotland, whose teachings have resulted in a world movement.

"Much of what is now presented to the public as Social Credit is little more than the personal opinion of the politically ambitious who advocate methods, plans, and platforms regardless of the fact that Social Credit is none of these but is a policy," it was stated. "Social Credit is a policy of a philosophy based on the assumption that society is primarily metaphysical and must have regard to the organic relationships of its prototype, which is our understanding of 'Thy Kingdom come on Earth as it is in Heaven.'"

Social Credit cannot be made to conform to the requirements of a political "party," the provincial delegates declared. It does not seek power, but is there to be applied.

The statement charged that nowhere in the world except in western Canada has an attempt been made to fit Social Credit to a political party machine. The British Columbia Social Credit League, the statement declared, has the support as a "party" of the Alberta government.

The statement attacked the policy of the C.B.C. in giving free broadcast time to Solon Low, and asserted that Mr. Low did not have the necessary 61 candidates in the last election. Bulk of the candidates claimed by Mr. Low, the statement said, were "Union of Electors." (Quebec Social Credit) who opposed "his brand of Social Credit."

The statement also referred to W. A. C. Bennett (M.L.A., Smith Okanagan), who has joined the B.C. Social Credit League.

"We do not wish to criticize the motives of Mr. W. A. C. Bennett, ex-Conservative, ex-Coalition M.L.A., or the other young men (Ronald Worley and Donald Smith, former Victoria Liberals) whose sudden emergence from the crysalis of their old faith into the light of Social Credit may have temporarily blinded them to the point of believing that what they are in is the genuine light."

The statement concluded:

"It is a matter of some doubt whether the events in Alberta have not proved to be one of the greatest setbacks Social Credit teaching has yet received.

"The Social Credit Association of Canada in British Columbia is the only provincial Social Credit organization which has remained [illegible] adhered to the objective and policy drawn up at the first national convention and endorsed in its entirety at the last national convention in 1946."

Uncle Wiggily Story - - -

By Howard Garis

Uncle Wiggily, who had picked up the telephone to call Chief the police dog, put it down when he heard Nurse Jane call loudly from her room. The muskrat lady was squeaking and screaming. Uncle Wiggily heard her say:

"Help! Help! There's an alligator in my bed!"

Uncle Wiggily opened his door, which he had closed, and asked:

"Are you talking in your sleep, Nurse Jane? Are you dreaming?"

"No more than you are, Mr. Longears," answered the muskrat lady bungalow keeper sort of hurt-like and indignant.

"I thought I heard you say there was an alligator in your bed, Nurse Jane. Did you?"

"Did I what?" Nurse Jane wanted to know. Mr. Longears could hear her running around her room. Miss Fuzzy Wuzzy was saying: "Scat! Scat! Get out before I bring my rolling pin and potato masher!"

"Did I hear you say, Nurse Jane," asked Uncle Wiggily sort of patient-like and forgiving, "did I hear you say there was an alligator in your bed?"

"That is exactly what I said," answered Miss Fuzzy Wuzzy. "And I wish you would come in here and put him out and not stay in your own room asking questions. Come and help me! Please!" added the muskrat, for, after all, she was a lady. "Come and help me!"

"I was just going to telephone Chief the police dog," said Uncle Wiggily.

"Don't wait for that!" cried Miss Fuzzy Wuzzy. "It will take Chief some time to get here. And by then this alligator may grab me by the tail. Come in here and save me!"

"I will come in just a moment," promised Uncle Wiggily in a sort of sweetness and light voice. "Just a moment, if you please, Nurse Jane."

"What are you going to do in that moment?" asked the muskrat lady.

"Oh this is too much."

"I am going to try to telephone Chief. Hello! Hello! Telephone Operator! Please get me Chief the police dog as soon as you can. What's that? The line is busy? Oh, dear me hum suz dud and a television picture of a lollipop eating an orange! Get Chief in a hurry, please!" Uncle Wiggily put in that "please" word because he happened to remember that, after all, he was a rabbit gentleman.

"Well is Chief coming to save me?" called Nurse Jane from her room.

"The line is busy, Nurse Jane. I will call again," said Mr. Longears. So he called: "Operator! Operator! Please get me Chief the police dog as fast as you can! There's an alligator in Nurse Jane's bed and the runaway rocking horse, with Jumping Jack on his back, is coming upstairs after me!"

"What did the operator say?" asked Nurse Jane.

"She didn't say anything. She just laughed and told me this wasn't April Fool," answered the rabbit uncle.

"The operator is right," said Nurse Jane. "But I am not fooling when I say there is an alligator in my bed. Get out! Scat! I will bang you with my rolling pin and potato masher!"

"Are you talking to me?" asked Uncle Wiggily.

"No! I am talking to the alligator," said Miss Fuzzy Wuzzy. "Please come at once, Uncle Wiggily! Save me!"

"I am coming to save you!" shouted Mr. Longears. He opened his bedroom door. As he looked back toward his bed he saw in it Too Too the clown. Too Too was ringing his bell.

"Oh, this is too much," said Uncle Wiggily. "What shall I do?"

What he did will be told in the next story if the lawn mower will please go out and cut the ice and snow off the sidewalk so the rubber boots can go roller skating.

MONDAY, JANUARY 21, 1952

Today's quotation: "It is the talent of human nature to run from one extreme to another."—Jonathan Swift.

Monday for everyone: Apply yourself diligently to the task at hand, avoiding interruptions or upsets. Continue with what is underway rather than make a fresh start. Use extra care en route.

Look for your birthdate and birthsign below.

March 21 to April 19 (Aries)—Don't look to others for monetary backing or repayment, nor take on the responsibilities of others.

April 20 to May 20 (Taurus)—Display a tolerant attitude toward the ups and downs of others. Maintain the respect of higher-ups.

May 21 to June 20 (Gemini)—Don't let another's troubles divert you from your own duties. Use care en route.

June 21 to July 22 (Cancer)—You'll want a freer rein today. Guard your bank roll; watch danger signals.

July 23 to Aug. 22 (Leo)—Don't press for decisions or make changes on vital affairs. Be careful to get a correct perspective.

Aug. 23 to Sept. 22 (Virgo)—Be quick to note changes in outlook and opinions in your locale. Shun idle chatter, carelessness.

Sept. 23 to Oct. 22 (Libra)—Direct your energies toward remedying restrictive circumstances. Don't chafe over shortages.

Oct. 23 to Nov. 21 (Scorpio)—Be considerate, avoid upsets. Don't become deadlocked by friction or tense feelings.

Nov. 22 to Dec. 21 (Sagittarius)—Look into things; gather facts and information. Make good on previous mistakes; complete tasks at hand.

Dec. 22 to Jan. 19 (Capricorn)—Reach an understanding on contemplated costs. Take nothing on faith; protect your assets.

Jan. 20 to Feb. 18 (Aquarius)—Hew to the "straight and narrow" today; apply yourself to work and duty. Shun haste.

Feb. 19 to March 20 (Pisces)—Put a brake on the urge to be short-tempered or footloose today. Allow for revisions on program.

Planning ahead—Good for sociability, entertaining, etc.: January 21, 22, 29, February 10, 11, 12, 13, 16, 19; daytime of 20, 25, 29.
